

Panel Discussion: “The End of Diplomacy?”

Thursday, 2 May 2013, 12:30-14:00

Committee Room 3, United Nations University Headquarters, Tokyo

Panelist Profiles

Jorge Heine holds the Chair in Global Governance at the Balsillie School of International Affairs, and is a Distinguished Fellow at the Centre for International Governance Innovation and a Professor of Political Science at Wilfrid Laurier University in Waterloo, Ontario.

He served previously as Ambassador of Chile to India, Bangladesh and Sri Lanka (2003–2007) and to South Africa, Mozambique, Namibia, Swaziland and Zimbabwe (1994–1999). He has also served as a Cabinet Minister in the Chilean government and as Vice President of the International Political Science Association (IPSA), and has held visiting appointments at St. Antony's College, Oxford, and at the universities of Heidelberg, Konstanz and Paris.

He is the author, co-author or editor of thirteen books, including The Oxford Handbook of Modern Diplomacy (with A. Cooper and R. Thakur, Oxford University Press, 2013); La Nueva India (El Mercurio/Aguilar, 2012); The Dark Side of Globalization (with R. Thakur, UNU Press, 2011); and Which Way Latin America? Hemispheric Politics Meets Globalization (with A. Cooper, UNU Press, 2009).

He has written for The New York Times, The Washington Post and The International Herald Tribune. He was the first ambassador to present credentials to President Nelson Mandela, and in 1997 and 1998, Johannesburg's leading daily newspaper, The Star, listed him among the 100 most influential personalities in South Africa.

---

Sadaaki Numata was appointed as Chairman of the English-Speaking Union of Japan (ESUJ) in June 2011, after serving as Vice Chairman since June 2008. He was Executive Director of the Japan Foundation Center for Global Partnership (CGP) from April 2007 to June 2009.

He earned an LL.B. from the University of Tokyo in 1966 and an M.A. in Philosophy, Politics and Economics from Oxford University in 1968. Having joined the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in 1966, he served in various positions at the Ministry including Director, Japan-US Security Division, and Director, First North America Division, both in the North American Affairs Bureau.

He was posted as Deputy Japanese Representative to the Conference on Disarmament (1987–88) and Deputy Head of Mission at the Japanese Embassy in Canberra, Australia (1989–91), as well as Minister Plenipotentiary at the Japanese Embassy in London (1994–97). In 1998 and 1999, he served as Foreign Ministry Spokesman/Director General for Press and Public Information.

In 2000, he was appointed Ambassador to Pakistan, and from 2003 to 2004, he was Ambassador in Charge of Okinawan Affairs. He was Ambassador to Canada from December 2004 to March 2007. In July 2009, he accompanied Their Majesties the Emperor and Empress on their visits to Canada and Hawaii as their official spokesman. He is also Advisor, KAJIMA Corporation, Member, Advisory Committee on International Broadcasting Programmes, NHK, and Counsellor, Foreign Press Center/Japan (FPCJ).

David M. Malone joined the United Nations University on 1 March 2013 as its sixth Rector. In that role, he holds the rank of Under-Secretary-General of the United Nations. A Canadian national, Rector Malone holds a BAA from l'École des Hautes Études Commerciales (Montreal); an Arabic Language Diploma from the American University (Cairo); an MPA from the Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University; and a DPhil in International Relations from Oxford University.

Prior to joining the United Nations University, he served (2008–2013) as President of Canada's International Development Research Centre, a funding agency that supports policy-relevant research in the developing world.

Dr. Malone previously served as Canada's Representative to the UN Economic and Social Council and as Ambassador and Deputy Permanent Representative of Canada to the United Nations (1990–1994); as Director General of the Policy, International Organizations and Global Issues Bureaus within Canada's Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT, 1994–1998); as President of the International Peace Academy (now International Peace Institute), a New York-based independent research and policy development institution (1998–2004); as DFAIT Assistant Deputy Minister for Global Issues (2004–2006); and as Canada's High Commissioner to India, and non-resident Ambassador to Bhutan and Nepal (2006–2008).

He also has held research posts at the Economic Studies Program, Brookings Institution; Massey College, University of Toronto; and Norman Paterson School of International Affairs, Carleton University. He has been a Guest Scholar and Adjunct Professor at Columbia University, and an Adjunct Professor at the New York University School of Law.

Dr. Malone has published extensively on peace and security issues. His most recent books include Nepal in Transition: From People's War to Fragile Peace (as co-editor; 2012, Cambridge University Press) and Does the Elephant Dance? Contemporary Indian Foreign Policy (2011, Oxford University Press).